Fine barbecue cooks are in charge of them all, and you can just begin the starving act several days before you start to the cue, there will be plenty for you all.

Gamblers Pulled.

The police having received notice that a gang of colored men were gambling in the woods near Mr. Perrin's grove. Policemen May and Austell went down and caught them in the act. They succeeded in capturing seven of the gang, and have since learned that others were into it. They have an eye open for the others, and will, no doubt, run them in later. This was a good haul, and will possibly have the effect of putting a check on this gambling among the negroes.

To the Ladies!

What are our ladies doing for prohibition?

We see by the papers that at almost all of the State campaign meetings the ladies are showing their interest in this most important movement, by their kind reception of our prohibition candidate, Col. Hoyt, by their cheers, bouquets, banners, etc., etc. Surely our Union ladies are not less interested in the future well or woe of their husbands, sons and brothers. Let some lady take the initiative and prepare for a grand reception at the grounds of the speaking of our prohibition candidate, Col. Jas. H. Hoyt. His war record, his record as a citizen, and as a pure christian gentleman, fully able to fill the government chair, merit all that may be done for his pleasure on the day of the speaking, August 1st, 1900.

S. M. Rice, Jr., E. U. County Chairman.

A Deserving Compliment To a Worthy Pastor.

In a letter to the Baptist Courier the Rev. Dr. Key tells of his visit to Union, and in speaking of the recent protracted meeting at the First Baptist church in Union in which the Doctor assisted the Rev. L. M. Rice, he says:

"I spent ten days in June with Bro. L. M. Rice at Union. The night congregations were uniformly large, save when reduced by the rains prevailing at that time." The people evidenced genuine interest in the meetings and many were strengthened for service. I believe I never before preached so many sermons in succession with the same degree of personal enjoyment. Pastor Rice is a very industrious worker and as tactful as he is tireless. He adapts himself to the second church with its factory membership quite as readily as to the members of the first church. He has greatly unified and built up the Baptist cause in Union. One of his leading members told me that he had not a single criticism to pass on his pastor. The new house of the second church is a large and attractive building, and it is often filled to overflowing. Baptists in Union are growing in number and influence and have a bright future."

Before the Mayor.

The Mayor's Court did a brisk business Monday. The seven negroes caught gambling in Bill Tucker's house were each fined $5.00 and costs or 10 days. Five of them came down with the dough. Lou Twitty, a notorious character among the number of the same ilk who disgrace our town, was up before the Mayor and was fined $5.00 or 10 days. She, like all the rest, took the days. It seems to be a picnic to these notorious women to be sent to jail and it has about as much effect upon them as a shower of rain upon a duck. There should be some kind of method of punishment adopted for these characters that would not be quite so agreeable as a few days confinement and free board.

Asleep on the Railroad.

A colored man named Lee Osborne got his foot mashed yesterday about 2 o'clock at Buffalo. He was sitting on a pile of lumber with his foot on the track. He dropped off to sleep and the train came along and cut off his small toe and took out a considerable chunk of his foot beside. Don't go to sleep on a railroad. Dr. Smith dressed the wound.
